Project Overview

This project was created in order to get my switch some of its own personality and also so I would not need to worry about accidentally swapping it with friends. No it's not a triennial on top of that this project would work to fix up my switch As I need to go inside and clean it up.

Why?

This project was done to fix up my switch but also give it personality and get to really understand what was inside.

how

This was done by finding a kit and parts for my switch and then I would go inside the switch by taking it apart and replacing certain parts to give it a custom color.

conclusion

This project was really fun and I ended up with a switch that really looked nice that I truly think is better than some of the more expensive ones that come already customized. I intend on perhaps customizing my switch dock in the future .
